The following example citations are for resources you will commonly use in PHR 356C/156P Pharmaceutics:

1. ARTICLES IN JOURNALS

2. BOOKS

Author(s). Book title. Edition (if not the first). Place of publication: Publisher; publication date.

Ansel's Pharmaceutical Dosage Forms:

Note that your instructors may ask you to include the page number(s) on which you find your information.

Remington: The Science and Practice of Pharmacy (chapter in an e-book):

USP-NF Online (chapter/monograph in an e-book, no author):

3. DATABASES

Author(s) (if available). Web page title. Name of database.* Date of first publication (omit if not available) [date updated; date cited]. In: Database name [Internet]. Place of publication: Publisher; copyright date. Available from: URL.

*Note that some drug databases, such as Lexicomp and Micromedex, have many different databases inside the resource. You must include the individual database name (e.g., Lexi-Drugs, AHFS DI, Drugdex, etc.).
Clinical Pharmacology:

Lexicomp:

Micromedex:

4. PACKAGE INSERT

Trade name (generic name) dosage form. Place of manufacture: Pharmaceutical company; publication date [date cited]. Package insert. Available from: URL.

DailyMed (online package inserts):

5. PATENT

Inventor name(s), inventors; assignee name(s), assignee. Title. Patent country Document type Country code Patent number. Date issued [date cited]. Available from: URL.

6. WEB PAGE

Website title [Internet]. Place of publication: Publisher; copyright date [date updated; date cited]. Secondary page title (if referencing page other than home page); [number of screens]. Available from: URL.